

Preface

Volume 2 Number 1

January 2017

Science and Technology Indonesia is issued volume 2 in this year. The content in the volume 2 no. 1 on January is also dominated with field of chemistry. Authors are also from the same department. Although that the same department but the various kind of chemistry subject is appeared in this journal.

We hope this issue can be used for academic purposes. Please feel free cite article of this journal. In this issue, we also received several editors from various country. This is important to improve the quality of this journal for the future.

Please contact us for further information related with this journal.

Editorial Team